

Village boy Nabin Darjee wants to be a leading Digital Entrepreneur of the country

Village boy Nabin Darjee wants to be a leading Digital Entrepreneur of the country

Assam, Gohpur, Feb 8, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Nabin Darjee, founder of a Digital marketing agency is just 20 years old and a college dropout. He is in a way a true representative of that section of the new generation that believes that the traditional system of education is not a must to excel in life and get success.

Born on 7 Feb 1998 in Biswanath ass and presently living in gohpur, Nabin Darjee was never among the A graders during schooling. While studying at GAMERI HIGH SCHOOL, Gamer, he was more interested in computers and social media. When he was in 6th standard, he got to know about digital marketing from a few of his seniors. The very idea of digital marketing felt attracted to him.

The next year he started his own Facebook page and it was successful as it got 1lakh likes within a year. Many people started approaching him for promoting their websites through his page. He says “It is good if you are focused when you are young, you keep working towards your passion without knowing where you are heading, without worrying for success, it is the curiosity to know more and learn more that keeps you going.”

In 9th standard, he moved a step ahead and started his own website where he would generally post viral content from the internet. The website started getting a good number of hits which motivated him to do more. For the next 2 years, he kept his focus on his website and kept studying digital marketing through online courses and free internet stuff alongside his school studies.

After completing 10th standard, he got into Diploma College with computer science stream.

After some time, Nabin Darjee convinced his parents that he doesn’t want to continue with college and wants to start his own digital marketing agency. His parents were unwilling for this but nevertheless supported his decision. That’s when he started a Digital agency.

Nabin Darjee is well acquainted with all the recent digital marketing tools and techniques. His agency is one of the fastest-growing digital agencies in his region.

Nabin Darjee is aiming high and wants to be among the leading digital marketing agencies in the country.

Media Contact

Team Hindii

nabind68@gmail.com

Source : TEAM HINDII

See on IssueWire