

ZydeSoft inaugurated its Center of Excellence (CoE) for Full Stack Software Development at Chennai, India.

This center was developed in partnership with TechGeeks, a community of freelance developers from Chennai who contribute to various open source projects around the world.

Tamil Nadu, Chennai, Feb 24, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - “This center will serve as a knowledge hub that carries out various technology and performance research in Full Stack technologies such as Angular, React, Node.js, Java etc” said Arunkumar, Founder of ZydeSoft. “Our Center will house dedicated and freelance experts to carry out Component based development, research, training and documentation activities related to Full Stack technologies”, he added.

“We are excited to open this center as it would enable us to serve our customers with high efficiency and lower cost.”, said Kirthika, CTO of ZydeSoft. “We intend to develop multiple plug and play components that could be easily customized as per client project requirements, thus providing quality and cost advantage”, she added.

According to Kirthika, this Center of Excellence will bring at least 500 Full Stack developers in and around Chennai in the next 1 year to form the largest and the knowledgeable Full Stack tech pool in the City. This CoE will become a one-stop place for all Full Stack related project implementation, training and consultations for customers around the world.

“Finding a top quality Full Stack developer at the right cost is still a challenge for a lot of tech companies around the world. With this CoE in place, the tech companies can remotely hire and work with highly experienced and talented Full Stack developers easily”, Arun added.

To be a part of this Full Stack community or to work with the developers in this community, you can email info@zydesoft.com

Media Contact

Zydesoft Solutions

info@zydesoft.com

Source : Zydesoft

See on IssueWire