

Atlanta female rapper Glam Graham is breaking boundaries

The versatile music artist is quickly gaining popularity at 38 years of age.

Georgia, Atlanta, Mar 24, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Rising Atlanta, Georgia, songwriter and rapper, Twanna Graham, professionally known as Glam Graham, is quickly becoming a phenomenon in the hip-hop music scene. Hailing from Chicago, Illinois, Glam Graham starting writing raps at the age of 8 years old, but did not begin releasing music professionally until 2020. Glam Graham was a single parent who waited until her only son turned 18 years old to begin pursuing her own dreams. Glam Graham's debut single released on New Year's Day 2020 was a mid-tempo twerk song entitled,

"Bounce", which became very popular in local clubs.

Glam Graham credits many of the female pioneers of rap, such as Queen Latifah, MC Lyte, Salt-n-Pepa, Da Brat, and others for inspiring her to become a rapper and songwriter. Although Glam Graham is considered a hip-hop music artist, her versatility as a songwriter enables her to record music in several different genres. Throughout 2020, Glam Graham released six (6) singles of varying genres. "Bounce", "Run Me Dat", and "For Da Money" were all club bangers formatted to get Glam Graham's name ringing in the club scene. The fourth single, "What's the Vibe", has a smooth and sultry R&B vibe with singing on the hook. The fifth single, "Fully Automatic", goes hard as a straight gangster track giving Glam Graham all the street credibility she would ever need. The sixth single, "Pretty Girls", goes outside the box as an uptempo pop music song.

Glam Graham released more singles in 2021, including the hardcore rap song, "Shots Fired", the incredibly smooth single, "Believers", and the catchy club hit, "Google Me B*tch!". Glam was also featured on singles released by DJ Fury, "Dreaming" and "Dreaming (Fury Bass Remix)". Although Glam Graham had a later start than most female rappers of today, she's rapidly making up for a lost time by being consistent with her release schedule and constantly releasing visuals for her songs.

Glam may also be spotted cruising around Atlanta (or in your city) in her customized matte purple Jaguar XF with her name Glam Graham, the phrase "Google Me B*tch!", the indie label name GoldMyne Entertainment and the company logo all printed on the vehicle. Stream Glam Graham's music from any online platform and official music videos may be found on YouTube.
