

BergHOFF introduces reusable bottles with a smart protected drinking spout Launching on Kickstarter.

Florida, Tampa, Mar 23, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - BergHOFF introduces reusable bottles with a smart protected drinking spout Launching on Kickstarter.

BergHOFF Worldwide is launching Protean, a reusable bottle with a smart protected drinking spout, on Kickstarter. The Protean bottle's design was in response to the realization of how quickly viruses and bacteria spread. Reusable drinking bottles play a considerable role in this. "Millions of us don't realize how often we touch the cap of a drinking bottle or the mouthpiece for that matter," explains BergHOFF CEO Adelheid Deltour.

BergHOFF Worldwide has designed a modular bottle system specifically designed to free the drinking spout from contamination. Unlike most reusable bottles that require you to use your hands to open and close the drinking spout, the Protean drinking spout is 100% hands-free. This modular bottle set contains two bottles and comes with five special add ons that make it versatile enough to join you in all your daily activities.

The Protean bottle set launches on Kickstarter on March 30, 2021. "For Berghoff, creating a Kickstarter campaign to launch a new product is something entirely new. We chose this route very deliberately because it allows us to receive feedback from customers early on. We want to work with the community they create to produce the ultimate reusable drinking bottle." -Adelheid Deltour, CEO

Every bottle helps. Berghoff stands behind the belief that sustainable drinking water is a human right and should be accessible to every person, everywhere. A portion of each Kickstarter pledge will be used to fund clean drinking water projects through their impact charity partner, Simavi.

Buy the Protean Bottle Set now for $39 (early bird package) on Kickstarter.
