New York, New York City, Mar 26, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Recognized as a top allergist and immunologist, Dr. Tolston is the President & Medical Director of Allergy Asthma & Immunology in Madison. She opened her practice with a mission to provide exceptional adult and pediatric care in Midtown East, New York City, New York.

Treating children and adults, she specializes in complicated cases of chronic debilitating immunologic disorders such as urticaria (hives), sinusitis, bronchitis, cough variant asthma, vertigo, chronic fatigue, headaches, inflammatory bowel syndrome, and GERD. She believes in a multi-system approach that searches beyond obvious symptoms to identify the precise cause of each patient's condition.

Combining her extensive clinical experience and academic background with today's most current medical developments, Dr. Tolston creates customized care that helps each patient overcome their symptoms and thrive. As an expert in asthma and all types of allergies, she treats a wide range of issues associated with those conditions. She also specializes in complex immune system disorders and system-wide problems like mast cell activation syndrome.

In addition to her academic affiliation with NYU School of Medicine, she is affiliated with Mount Sinai Medical System

The doctor's acclaimed career in medicine began after she earned her medical degree from Danylo Halytsky Lviv National Medical University in Ukraine. Upon relocating to the United States, she performed her residency in internal medicine at Cabrini Medical Center and her fellowship in allergy and immunology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine.

Highly trained to determine the cause of allergies related to foods, the environment, drugs, or topical substances, Dr. Tolston is board-certified in allergy & immunology by the American Board of Allergy and Immunology (ABAI). The ABAI establishes qualifications and examines physicians to become recognized specialists in allergy and immunology.

Appointed as a Fellow of the American Academy of Allergy, Asthma, and Immunology (FAAAAI), she is also an active member of the American College of Allergy, Asthma and Immunology, the American Medical Association, and the New York Society of Allergy and Immunology.

Allergy and immunology involve the management of disorders related to the immune system. These conditions range from the very common to the very rare, spanning all ages and encompassing various organ systems. An allergist/immunologist is a physician specially trained to diagnose, treat, and manage allergies, asthma, and immunologic disorders, including primary immunodeficiency disorders. Common allergic and immunologic diseases include food allergy, asthma, hives, nose allergies, eczema, and non-HIV immune deficiencies.

A distinguished allergy and asthma specialist, educator, and humanitarian with a wide range of professional credentials in the fields of immunology, allergies, and asthma, Dr. Tolston is recognized as a "New York Top Doctor" by Connolly's Guide, and as a "Super Doctor" by New York Times Magazine.
