

Ever Creative XXTHEALCHEMIST Returns With Bombastic Hits on Soundcloud

The sensational Virginia singer XXTHEALCHEMIST turns back the hands of time to inject the retro energy in all of his latest rap music released on Soundcloud in 2021.

Virginia Beach, Mar 8, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - The upcoming hip hop rapper XXTHEALCHEMIST always fights for his deserved place in the industry. His struggle is not new to the audience who is closely involved with the hip hop culture that has enriched the music quality in the market in many ways. Being an ever-impressive Virginia singer of this generation, he takes the odd chances to show the world one more time what it takes to be so consistent with musical work even after the constant criticism. He returns to steal the show with a new light at the beginning of a year that's still shaken by the post shocks of the global crisis caused by the vicious pandemic. He confounds the large audience with a massive new rap hit single 'Babe I Know'. It was released on Soundcloud in the first week of March. Disgusted with the late-night drunk calls from his ex, he finally stands with a solution. This is a shrewd message that is dedicated to someone from the list of his exes. He finds a way to rhyme about the exploitation of his energy through the rhythmic verses. He wants to fix the way which will stop the draining experience and the comical touches make the song light-hearted for the carefree listeners.

XXTHEALCHEMIST is erudite who has been known for making hip hop songs that quickly draw the audience in for its exceptional artistry. His concept of designing a soundscape with great ideas that he imbibed from the isolation is what it takes to climb the peak of success. He has evolved from the majority of indie rappers you generally find in the industry. The last bars of the latest track 'Blowing My Mood' fall right into the energetic trap bass making it sound like the next mainstream hit everyone is going to dance on.

The young artist learned to fill the void in his heart with the rhythms made from unadulterated sentiments and sweet experiences. Sometimes the spooky memories become the music interest and he expresses the cold feelings with predicted trap beats. 'Its 2AM' is a song for all the minimalistic people crated with fun beats and typical lyrics that his fans always expect from him. There's always a rhythm playing in the head. When he finds a tragedy to recall, he stitches words with stimulating hip hop rhythms to create a hyperbolic experience. Follow the artist on Soundcloud, and Instagram for getting your hands on more music.
