

MAK Digital Design signs LongIslandWatch as a Client

Custom Website Design and Development

Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Mar 23, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - MAK Digital Design announces LongIslandWatch as their newest client for custom website design, development, and data migration from Volusion to the BigCommerce platform.

For nearly two decades, LongIslandWatch has been providing high-quality authentic, novel, and unique watches – the kind you will not typically find at your local jewelry store. Their products come in many styles from all around the world, from Germany to Switzerland, Italy, the Islands, Far East, and even right here in the United States. Their quality products and quality customer service, including a no-questions-asked return policy, are a large part of what sets LongIslandWatch apart from their competition.

Some of the brands LongIslandWatch carries include Seiko Watches, Seagull 1963, Axios Dive Watches, as well as their own brand, Islander Watches. They also allow for customizations on the watches you order, allowing you to personalize them for you. Most of the watches they sell are priced under $500, with many in the $100-$200 range. Their large selection of watches alongside their customization options and prices put LongIslandWatch far ahead of their competitors.

In LongIslandWatch's newfound partnership with MAK Digital Design, they underwent a redesign of their entire website that included a new custom design for their homepage, a new category page design, as well as updating every webpage to make the theme consistent and more responsive. In addition to the redesign, MAK Digital Design also migrated the LongIslandWatch website from the Volusion platform to the BigCommerce platform.

MAK Digital Design is a Web Design and Development Company based in Philadelphia with a heavy focus on Custom Web Solutions and E-Commerce websites. They were awarded Elite Partner of the Year in 2020 by the BigCommerce Platform and have worked with hundreds of businesses ranging from mom-and-pop shops to larger enterprises.

Partnering with MAK Digital Design means working alongside multiple experts in the industry from developers who know the leading E-Commerce platforms better than the back of their hands, designers, marketers, and SEO experts who will raise the rankings of your site on Google, increasing organic traffic to your website.
