Get to know Podiatrist Dr. Manooj Prasad, who serves patients in Toms River, New Jersey.

New York, New York City, Mar 18, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Prasad is an experienced podiatrist and trained surgeon who is passionate about preventing and treating foot problems to eliminate the need for surgery whenever possible. He is the owner & operator of Garden State Foot & Ankle Group in Toms River, New Jersey.

As such, he offers comprehensive care exploring both non-surgical and surgical treatment options based on his patient's needs and lifestyle. Specializing in foot and ankle surgeries and ailments, as well as sports injuries to the foot and ankle, he tends to issues such as diabetic foot care, gout, limb salvage, peripheral artery disease, ankle and heel pain, bunions, hammertoes, foot and ankle fractures, plantar fasciitis, plantar warts, and more. His goal is to provide patients with an experience that leaves them feeling better and gives them that bounce back in their step.

Focusing on disorders of the foot, ankle, and lower leg, Dr. Prasad is one of the only surgeons in the area trained to perform the STAR Total Ankle Joint Replacement and Wireless Hammer Toe Repair, providing a quicker recovery time. He also uses the latest technology to perform endoscopic plantar fasciotomy. Dr. Prasad treats diabetic wounds both in the office and at the wound care center at Clara Maass Medical Center using the latest technology and surgical techniques to heal wounds and prevent limb loss.

Locally, he is on staff at Clara Maass Medical Center, Community Medical Center, Monmouth Medical Center Southern Campus, New Jersey Surgery Center, and Metropolitan Surgery Center.

Born and raised in East Brunswick, New Jersey, Dr. Prasad completed his undergraduate studies at Rutgers University and received his Doctor of Podiatric Medicine degree from the New York College of Podiatric Medicine. His surgical training was completed at both Our Lady of Mercy in the Bronx and St. Vincent's Hospital Brooklyn-Queens. He then continued with advanced training in foot and ankle surgery with a nationally-renowned surgeon, Dr. Stanley Kalish, in Atlanta, Georgia.

Feeling that Ocean County was a great place to begin his career and raise a family, Dr. Prasad opened his practice originally in Lakewood and recently moved to his current location in Toms River.

Podiatry is a branch of medicine devoted to the study, diagnosis, and medical and surgical treatment of a variety of disorders of the foot, ankle, and lower extremity. A podiatrist, also known as a podiatric physician or a foot and ankle surgeon, is a medical professional devoted to the treatment of disorders of the foot, ankle, and lower extremities. They can treat injuries and complications from ongoing health issues like diabetes.

Fluent in both English and Hindi, Dr. Prasad lives in Toms River with his wife, Krystin, and their four children. He enjoys gardening, playing tennis, and training his dog, Max.
