New Jersey, Paramus, Mar 3, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - People are in shock and their lives are in upheaval due to the loss of their loved ones, jobs, businesses, and livelihoods during the worst pandemic in modern times. Author, Business Coach, and Inter-Faith (All-Faiths) Minister, Oreste J. D'Aversa has come out with a book offering a step-by-step blueprint to transform oneself, titled “Life Beyond the Pandemic: A Practical New Journey Handbook”.

“A new day-to-day reality needs to be created to deal, manage and thrive in the new realism of the post-pandemic world. My book is meant to help people realize and create an even better life, and to not be afraid to start all over again,” says Oreste J. D'Aversa.

D'Aversa understands all too well what people are going through - “Being an only child and taking care of two parents for over 18 years until they passed away while running a business with the financial and emotional drain that was caused, then the pandemic starting, and having lost everything myself, I understand what it means to rebuild one’s professional and personal life”, says D'Aversa.

“Life Beyond the Pandemic” is full of proven results-oriented tools, techniques, and practical advice to start life anew in the post-Covid-19 world. Starting from a spiritual perspective to real-world financial prosperity, the book reveals how to achieve it all with easy-to-understand concepts and techniques that work as a “Life Blueprint”. The goal is to prepare the reader “Re-Engineer Re-Build, Re-Start” and live a happy, prosperous and joyful life. Towards this aim, the guide begins with the “Game Plan”, showing the basics, the reality of starting over, and how to form a plan for a new life. Other sections and chapters cover the Spiritual, Emotional, Mental, and Physical aspects to grow, thrive, and prosper.
