

Parisa Bazgir also known as Parisa Farhadi is an American journalist currently working at Iran International TV network.

California, Los Angeles, Mar 24, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Parisa Bazgir is also known as Parisa Farhadi is an American journalist currently working at the Iran International TV network. Born on 03/21/1978 in Tehran, she attended Tehran Azad University majoring in software engineering. She migrating to the United States in 2003. Parisa Farhadi's professional career as a journalist started soon after she moved to the United States. She first appeared on the Voice of America Persian Service TV network as a correspondent but she soon took more jobs throughout the network, working as a writer, fill-in host, and field reporter. After a short period of time, she was one of the main anchors of VOA's one-hour cultural-entertainment daily show known as "Shabahang". After a couple of years, her passion for reporting on unbiased, factual, and fair news led her to become one of the main anchors of the daily newscast known as "Saat-Khabar" at the VOA Persian. She has conducted many in-depth interviews with many newsmakers and celebrities and has done extended feature reports covering a wide range of topics from breaking news to cultural, social, and entertainment. She has conducted interviews with Iranian celebrities such as Behrouz Vossoughi, Dariush, Shahryar Ghanbari, Manouchehr Cheshmazar, Martik, Leila Forouhar, Farid Zoland, Arash, Andy Morteza, Satar, and Hamid Saeedi the winner of the Grammy Award for the Best New Age Album at the 61st edition of the awards in 2019. She has also interviewed American lawmakers and politicians such as Major General Richard Secord, John A. Mirisch, the previous mayor of Beverly Hills, CA, Robert Garcia the current mayor of Long Beach, California.

Media Contact

Parisa Farhadi

Alone.pr0914@gmail.com

Source : Alone Pr

See on IssueWire