

SRFA Cannes Announces Screenplay Competition Winner: Jacobo Fe

The writer Jacobo Fe Gismera wins Best Feature WWII Script in Silk Road Film Awards-Cannes

California, Los Angeles, Mar 10, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Silk Road Film Awards-Cannes recently announced the winner of its screenwriting competition, awarding Best Feature Script to the young and promising writer Jacobo Fe Gismera for his excellent WWII feature screenplay "ACE", an accurate and entertaining historical recreation about Douglas Bader.

"Douglas Bader was a British pilot during WWII, who, after losing both of his legs in a terrible accident, was able to become a Captain and a flying ace. One of the Few. The use of prosthesis was not an impediment to prove his value and wit; both when he was battling in the skies or as an inmate in the most impregnable Nazi prison", says Jacobo. "Bader was both a virtuous and controversial figure. That's what I tried to show through my writing. Bader's rude and rebel spirit coupled with his will power and energy resulted in adoration and frustration in equal measures with his allies and enemies. His exceptional merits and career made him an inspirational hero. A human hero".

Media Contact

Jacobo Fe Gismera

jacoboautor@gmail.com

Source : Silk Road Film Awards-Cannes

See on IssueWire