I get to treat a spectacular array of patients who are truly in for a life-changing experience in our office!! I am so excited about the field of orthodontics today! “While it takes years of education and hard work to get accepted into an orthodontic residency program, you soon learn that your residency is not the “beginning of the end” of your years of education. Rather, it is the “end of the beginning”. I am committed to excellence in orthodontics and, therefore, am continually learning new techniques and innovations in this exciting field” stated Dr. Gostovich.
