

Top Three Reasons to Use a Real Estate Agency to Sell or Buy Your Home | George Real Estate Group

North Carolina, Greenville, Mar 12, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - You have a home to sell and are wondering if you should do it yourself or if you should use a real estate agency. With a highly volatile housing market, selling your property can be more difficult than ever. Many people think that they can sell their house or purchase a new one on their own. Whether you are selling your home or looking to purchase a new one, using an agency like George Real Estate Group is your best bet to find success. Here are the top three reasons to use a real estate agency to sell your home.

Experience

Using a real estate agent brings with it all the wonderful perks of experience. A good real estate agent will know all the ins and outs of your local market. They are following the buying and selling trends for your target area. With their experience, they can get you the best deal on your new home, or get you the most money for the home you are selling. They are expert negotiators and have experience working with banks, as well as other real estate agencies.

Save Time

The agency will do all the groundwork for you. After they are aware of what you are looking for to purchase, or what you are selling, they will do all of the research for you. If buying a new home, they will locate the homes in your area that meet your criteria. The agency will set up convenient times for you to go look at only the suitable homes.

Your local realtor knows the neighborhood and probably knows the history of many of the homes up for sale in your area. They can help save time by not taking you to look at inappropriate homes. If you are going it alone, you will probably spend a lot of time looking at homes that aren't right for you.

If you are the seller, the agency will list your home and lay all the groundwork for finding a suitable buyer. They will deal with showing your home to interested buyers, so you don't have to take the time out of your busy schedule to do it.

Legal Expertise

With the market swamped with foreclosures and short sales, there are so many legal ins and outs you need to know to purchase or sell a home. Agencies know the laws and legal procedures in your local market. You will be well represented at the negotiating table, and your best interest will always be their major concern. There is so much damage being done to foreclosed homes that working with real estate professionals will help protect your legal rights.

Whether you are buying or selling, working with real estate agencies is highly recommended. There are so many twists and turns in the market today, and you need someone with the expertise representing you.
