"During the pandemic, this past year my family and I, like many others, found an appreciation for dining in and preparing fancy meals at home," shared Stuysonnie Lam, Business Development for Tuxton Home. "We discovered that the best dinnerware sets have the power to elevate any occasion endlessly, which is why we created Zion 2.0 – a dinner set that is chic and contemporary, yet still functional and easy to clean."

Showcasing simple, clean lines in modest matte colors, Zion 2.0 gives mealtime a modern makeover. Reminiscent of the subtle earth tones found in Zion National Park, the Zion 2.0 Collection has four contemporary matte glazes to choose from in graphite black, soft white, stone grey and desert tan.

The new collection includes small plates, large plates, and bowls; and features a new, conservative 15 oz. sized bowl - the original Zion collection bowl size is 26 oz. The new up-to-date collection also features larger plates than the original collection, with plates measuring at 10.75 inches and 8.25 inches, almost an inch larger in size compared to the original collection. Zion 2.0 is available as a bundle or individual sets, with an individual set of six small plates starting at $122 USD. A bundle is valued at $515 USD and includes six small plates, six large plates and six bowls.

Lead and cadmium free, the Zion 2.0 collection is dishwasher, microwave, and freezer safe and ergonomically designed for comfortable handling and easy stacking. Upgrade your mealtime and table-scape with Tuxton Home's Zion 2.0 collection.
