

WiSilica Announces partnership with leading sales agency to promote wireless lighting controls

About Lighting LLC represents and expands WiSilica's presence in Smart building projects in Northern Virginia, Washington Metropolitan Area and Maryland

California, Laguna Hills, Mar 11, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - WiSilica, the world-class IoT platform, and solutions provider, announced an alliance with About Lighting LLC, a manufacturer's representative in the lighting and electrical industry. They are renowned for assisting engineers, architects, and members of the design community. This partnership will promote Lumos Controls devices and technology, thereby help customers create an energy-code compliant, smart lighting ecosystem. They will expand WiSilica's presence in Northern Virginia, Washington Metropolitan Area, and Maryland.

" This partnership excites us a lot because About Lighting LLC has more than more than 40 years of experience in the lighting and electrical industry. Their knowledge and experience in the field is outstanding and they will provide customers with detailed information about our products and services. Their long-standing relationship with engineers, architects, and interior designers will also help us know more about the diverse needs of customers. We offer devices, components and technology that help customers design an energy-code compliant ecosystem, faster, saving installation time. Our future-oriented services and high-quality products will help them to serve their clients in the best possible way", says Suresh Singamsetty.

Lumos Controls provide a wide range of lighting controls that make implementing lighting control strategies easier. About Lighting LLC is in a better position to understand customer's need thereby helping them choose the best suitable product. The two forces coming together will benefit the customers in the most exciting ways.

"We at About Lighting LLC are inspired by the technology at the core of the new Lumos wireless control products from Wisilica. The versatile innovations and potential energy savings provided by WiSilica are part of a story that we are pleased to help bring to the lighting community", says Walter Leisersohn, President, About Lighting LLC.

About WiSilica

WiSilica is a smart environment IoT platform and solutions provider that bridges objects, locations, and people in real-time. ARIXA, WiSilica's location-aware IoT platform, provides complete cloud-to-device solutions for Wireless lighting controls (Lumos Controls) and real-time location solutions (TRAK). The company also offers customized end-to-end IoT solutions (ORION) to OEMs developing new smart solutions. WiSilica, with its expanding partnerships with global tier1 companies, is committed to extending its leadership in human-centric lighting, energy efficiency, space management, and AI-powered analytics. For more information: wisilica.com

About Lighting LLC

Lighting LLC draws from more than 45 years of experience in the lighting and electrical industry to assist engineers, architects, and members of the design community. Our goal is always to provide accurate information concerning the latest technologies and designs in the lighting and electrical field to enable our audience to make intelligent decisions.

Media Contact

Wisilica

pr@wisilica.com

Vivek Pramod

WiSilica Inc. 23282 Mill Creek Dr #340, Laguna Hills, CA 92653, USA

Source : WiSilica

See on IssueWire