Historical characters such as Bagha Jatin, the nationalist-revolutionary whose motto was "Amra morbo, jagat jagbe" (We shall die to awaken the nation) and Abaninath Mukherji, the co-founder of the Indian Communist party, come to life in this family history. Our story in India ends with the author's own father fighting for his life and beliefs in the turbulent 1970's.

Our love story begins with people from two different castes connected through a quest for equality and freedom. Their journey leads them to Canada where the author is born. Through a life of making revolutionary music and activism, he continues the family legacy to this day."

More about the artist:

Prolific artist KDB, from Toronto's Underground Hip Hop scene, is revered for his memorable, high energy stage performances and lyricism. Since he was a young MC in the late '90s, he has been on stage in various venues across his city of Toronto, making him a household name.

KDB's introduction to the music industry was as a member of the group CROOKS OF DA ROUND TABLE. One of Toronto's first notable rap groups, appealing to the inner-city youth and appearing on MTV's and BET's RapCity video line-up. The group achieved international recognition with 3 of their single releases. Over time, KDB's lyrical talent and true artistic expression earned him a spot in other pioneering, local groups such as TRIBESMEN, POOR MAN MILITIA, STREET MUTTZ, and BABYLON WARCHILD.

KDB has over 20 official published projects within his groups, plus many solo album releases. Highlights of KDB's career include opening for an artist like Big Daddy Kane, Pharoah Munch, J Ru the damager, Jay Electronica, El Da sensei from Artifacts, RAZEL from The Roots and many others. Aside from opening for major artists, KDB has been a guest on stage with the likes of Meek Mills, Kurupt, EPMD, and Inspecta Deck from the Wu-Tang Clan. Perhaps most notable are his collaborations with Killah Priest, Hell Razah, Starang from OGC, Kurupt from DPG, Tragedy Khadafi, Sadat X, King David, and Solomon Childs.

KDB's last release was in 2021 with the album Gomorrah. It was produced by JA Beats, an accomplished producer from Nebraska, and mixed by Axel Rosa, a long time friend and talent. He's currently working on his next project and is excited to create more banging tracks for his discerning fan base who eagerly await his thought-provoking lyrical content. So, stay tuned!
