INTERNATIONAL NOVA

Georgia, Atlanta, Apr 4, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Fans of International Nova encouraged to check out the March issue of YV Hip Hop Magazine where they'll learn more about this talented musician/songwriter/actor, including how his breakout hit "Controla" came together in a matter of hours.

The digital mag also lets readers know that there's much more to this artist beyond by-the-book hip-hop. In the last few years, he's looked for ways to embrace his Latin heritage, including incorporating Latin rhythm into his music and transitioning into more of a Reggaetón/Afro-Latino sound rather than contemporary hip hop.

International Nova is also becoming more prominent in other media, including a role in "All Eyez On Me," a full-length film chronicling the life of Tupac Shakur. He's also been part of "Love & Hip Hop ATL," a reality show that portrays some of the interesting and talented personalities in the Atlanta-area music scene, including the musicians as well as the skilled people working behind the scenes.

Although he had some initial reservations about participating in that style of television, International Nova decided that being part of the "Love & Hip Hop" brand can create a way for more viewers to get to know many of the talented people working hard in Atlanta's music community. Part of the exposure includes showing the role of Latinos like himself.

International Nova shares details about the power of networking and building relationships, which he credits for helping him accomplish so much, including where he is today.

Later this year he has more music coming out, including a new single in late April and a new album later this year.

YV Hip Hop magazine is part of the Your Voice Media multimedia platform, which is dedicated to helping creatives, entertainers and entrepreneurs get the word out. The company, based in New York City, publishes a variety of diverse magazines in different genres as well as a book publishing and production arm. It began in 2015 as Your Voice magazine and focused on promoting artists, entertainers, models, and business owners.

Since then, it has expanded and now includes separate titles for YV Magazine and YV Teen. A fashion magazine is in the works.
