

Comma - The Community for Medical Aesthetics - Global App Launch

New York, New York City, Apr 27, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - The comma is the new global social network for aesthetic medicine. It brings together the professional community in a groundbreaking digital platform that has just launched in the App Store. It is also available for Android.

Exclusively available for medical professionals, Comma allows practitioners to share knowledge and discuss topics related to aesthetic medicine within a secure, private and dedicated community.

Comma has been developed with state-of-the-art technology to be beautifully user-friendly and intuitive. Taking the best functionality from social networks such as Facebook and creating a community and educational environment tailored specifically for medical aesthetics.

More than just a social network, Comma organizes the global conversation into sub-groups, or 'Commas'.

Practitioners can find their niche and easily network with like-minded specialists around the world, putting top-quality support and opportunities just a click or swipe away.

Comma has partnered with global key opinion leaders to create premium educational content showcased in a library of high-definition videos.

The comma is currently free to use. Premium subscriptions will soon be available, allowing these members to access exclusive live events and best-in-class, in-app video courses.

Leading aesthetics specialist, global key opinion leader, and early Comma adopter, Dr. Tapan Patel says:

“Comma fills a much-needed gap in creating a professional online environment in which our specialty can communicate and network. I very much look forward to speaking with my colleagues on Comma!”

Download the app today - just search for "Comma Community" in your app store, whether Apple or Android, or visit <https://joincomma.com> where you can join us from your desktop.
