

DJ G-String's Latest Release All These Nights (TC5Official remix)

Illinois, Chicago, Apr 30, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - A Chicago multi-talented musical artist, producer, and turntablist, DJ G-String continues to extend her EDM love with a new single titled All These Nights (TC5Official Remix). DJ G-String has released several remixes over the past few months, and All These Nights is her first original release for this year that came out on April 16th. DJ G-String loves having her music remixed and collaborating with other artists, so this won't be the first remix you hear of this track.

All These Nights is an immediate ear-grabber. This hot track is about constantly thinking about someone that you shouldn't really have feelings for anymore but can't explain why they still occupy space in your mind. We all have been there, in love, and lost at the same time. DJ G-String tries to relate to her life experiences in every song she writes and produces. The TC5Official Remix is a mix of house music with a bit of bouncy melodic grooves. The emotional impact of the original track was not lost in this remix.

About DJ G-String

DJ G-String is known as the one that makes the crowd dance with her selective dance music style. She creates an atmosphere where the music feels like it keeps evolving and becomes alive. She has been able to loop, sample, live mashups, and always beat-matching manually on the fly.

DJ G-String was young and began recording cassette tapes of songs on the radio and matching the beats. At the young age of 14, she was fascinated with mixing music and decided to dedicate her time and money to learning the skill. By the time G-String turned 18, she bought some turntables, and before long, her skills grew and she started to spin house parties, weddings, and school functions. Only one year later, she was hired at a nightclub in Chicago. She later was exposed to other booking agencies and nightclub vendors. She became a resident DJ at several nightclubs and guest DJs at other hot spots in Chicago. She has had the privilege of DJing with some of the top DJs in the country.

With over 20 years of experience as a Club DJ and a musician, her signature style of mixes, own dance tracks, and mashups are what make her feel alive. She spreads that feeling alive in each set she performs keeping the crowd going and demanding more.
