The kurta features a yoke and front detailing, and is teamed with a blue embroidered chiffon dupatta. Combine this set with nude make-up and ankle strap heels for a fuller festive look.

Pre-book - Avoid shopping last minute.

With a vast array of festive collections and the beginning of the summer season, the Fashion Station offers a wide range of choices. The use of materials like cotton, lawn, raw silk, organza, chiffon, cambric, and much more helps distinguish this from the myriad of online options available.

Festivals express the glorious cultural, historical, and Indian traditional heritage. In special times and emotions, they are meant to rejoice with our dear ones. They play a major role in organizing and connecting our social life with our families and backgrounds.

Given the current uncertainties and fear of COVID-19 constraints, a large chunk of customers chose to shop online. With online shopping, customers can choose from a variety of options, which saves them a lot of time when shopping. Besides, online shopping offers you the benefit of pre-booking the collection before it is launched on the market which prevents customers from last-minute shopping.

Before the upcoming festive season, book your favorite designer's suits at The Fashion Station to keep up the trend and don't miss the great offers on the website every day. Check out the latest collections by Pakistan's top designers including Sana Safinaz, Gul Ahmed, AlKaram, Sobia Nazir, Beechtree, Bin Saeed, Maria. B to name a few.
