

Hair-strengthening duo launched by cosmetic engineer Jennifer Bradley

FORT LAUDERDALE--The next must-try shampoo and conditioner duo for healthier, shinier, and stronger hair is now available.

California, Los Angeles, Apr 6, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Developed by skincare and cosmetic line Jennifer Bradley, it was created for those with sensitive scalps and those looking for products that contain no toxic ingredients. Both products in the Best Shampoo and Best Conditioner Bundle contain a hair growth and strengthening formula free of sulfates, phthalates, and parabens.

Jennifer Bradley Medically Formulated Skincare and Professional Cosmetics were founded by makeup artist and cosmetic engineer Jennifer Bradley. After working with celebrities and in salons around the world, she recognized a need for shampoo and conditioner that protected both hair and color. Bradley saw hair growth results in just ten days after using this duo, and customers have experienced the same.

“I've been using the shampoo and conditioner for about five weeks now and I love it,” Elizabeth, Jennifer Bradley customer, said. “I turned 40 this past year and lose lots of hair. Since using I've noticed less and less hair in my shower drains! Also, I am very sensitive to scents and was worried about the fragrance however there are no issues with it irritating my skin. Love how soft my hair is!”

The bundle is now a best seller of Jennifer Bradley's. All products from the brand are cruelty-free and made in the USA. Jennifer Bradley products have been featured on tv and in notable magazines such as People, Us Weekly, and more.
