

Learnie wins Horizon Interactive 'best in category' award

Utah, Salt Lake City, Apr 12, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Learnie is recognized for the prestigious interactive media award

Learnie (mylearnie.com) wins at the 19th Annual Horizon Interactive Awards Competition

The Horizon Interactive Awards, a leading international interactive media awards competition, has announced the 2020 award winners to highlight this year's "best of the best" in interactive media production.

Learnie was recognized for its excellence with a Best of Category award for the Education - Mobile Apps category.

"It is truly an honor to win this award and to be recognized next to other leading innovative apps," said Danny Cortes, CTO at Learnie. "Learnie is a paradigm shift in user-generated mobile and video micro-learning. Our private areas for organizations help build 'easy to deploy' asynchronous community learning. With Learnie, everyone is a teacher and everyone is a student. Learnie helps create and democratize learning"

The 2020 competition saw over 600 entries from around the world including 34 out of 50 US States and 14 other countries including: Australia, Canada, Germany, Hong Kong, India, Ireland, Qatar, Russia, South Korea, Sri Lanka, Switzerland, Taiwan, Turkey, and the UK.

An international panel of judges, consisting of industry professionals with diverse backgrounds evaluated over 50 categories spanning multiple media types including: web sites, mobile applications, print media, interactive displays, public exhibits, online advertising, video, email and more. The 2020 winning entries showcase the industry's best interactive media solutions from some of the top designers, producers, and developers all over the globe.

"The 19th annual competition came at a time when the world was put on pause for the pandemic. Despite the disruption and global challenge, digital media did not fail to adapt and display some amazing work during this serious time in our collective human history. The winners in the competition this year highlight that creative adaptability coupled with solid foundations in design, execution and strategic direction," said Mike Sauce, Founder of the Horizon Interactive Awards. "The winners of the 19th annual competition truly represent excellence in interactive media production and they all should be extremely proud of the work that they produce."

The Horizon Interactive Awards holds the competition each year with the winners being announced the following April. For more information visit the Horizon Interactive Awards online:

About the Horizon Interactive Awards

In its 19th year, the Horizon Interactive Awards was created to recognize excellence in interactive media production worldwide. Since 2001, the competition has received tens of thousands of entries from nearly 50 countries around the world and nearly all 50 US States. Each year, those entries are narrowed down to the “best of the best” to be recognized and promoted on an international stage for their excellence. The judging process involves a blend of the Horizon Interactive Awards advisory panel and a rotating panel of volunteer judges consisting of respected and engaged industry professionals. Winning entries have been dubbed the “best of the best” in the interactive media industry.
