- Amazing Athletes of Central Jersey franchise owners Vincent and Rose Scuorzo
- Amazing Athletes mascot Kardio the Kangaroo & Amazing Athletes corporate officials

How:

Youth sports enrichment and educational programs promoting active learning in the classroom.

Why: In the middle of the pandemic, Amazing Athletes, the nation's largest franchise youth sports enrichment program, continues to find new ways to deliver engaging physical education and sports programs to children. Over the past year, Amazing Athletes has expanded their franchise base, expanded into virtual classes, mobile programming, new activities and private camps. Now, the 15-year-old company is moving into retail. The first Amazing Athletes Sports Training Facility, opening April 12th in Howell Township, New Jersey, owned and operated by Howell Township residents Vincent and Rose Scuorzo, provides 3,200-square feet of activity spaces for kids to participate in multi-sport training and specialty camps, as well as nutrition and muscle group education.

"During this time of hybrid learning, Zoom video calls, and social distancing, kids have not received enough physical education," said Vinny Scuorzo. "We're looking to fill that void. Our goal is to get kids moving, providing fun and engaging activity supplements, much the same as they are currently getting tutoring and educational supplements, from coaches and trainers who know how to connect with kids."

Among the programs to be offered at the Howell Township Amazing Athletes Sports Training Facility are Amazing Athletes' proven multi-sport coaching and instruction, Super Soccer Stars programs, one-on-one and private group training, clinics, and camp programs, including the extremely popular two-hour "Parents Night Out" program.
