

Nova Vento Entertainment set to release military faith-based movie

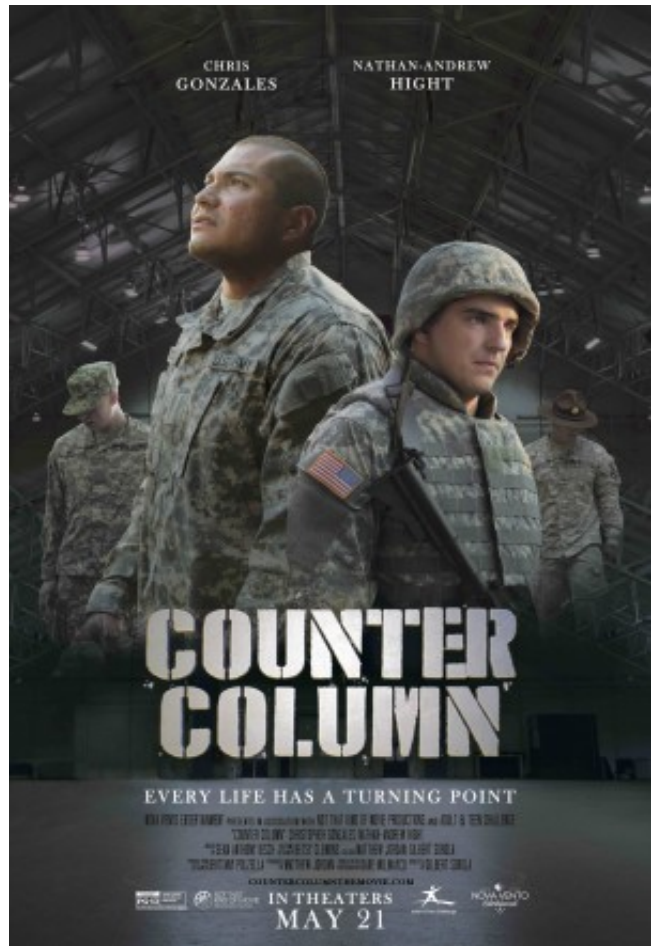

The Award-Winning Feature, COUNTER COLUMN Will Open May 21, 2021

Montana, Polson, Apr 22, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Nova Vento Entertainment has acquired the theatrical rights to the new award-winning faith-based film, Counter Column, and will be releasing the film in theaters nationwide on May 21, 2021. Counter Column follows the lives of two young men from very different worlds that clash hard and fast when they meet in basic training. Anthony Mendoza (played by Chris Gonzales) is a hard-hitting drug dealer who grew up fighting everyone and everything in the inner city. He has no idea what to do with Chris Wright (Nathan-Andrew Hight), a quiet man of faith who grew up in the rural farmlands of Indiana. Mendoza learns quickly that his violent life lessons haven't prepared him for what life outside the inner city, let alone in the military, is like. When tragedy strikes, both young men need to dig deep and find out what's truly going to carry them through. This fast-paced, emotional drama is already changing lives and opening people's hearts in a big way. Says lead actor Chris Gonzales, "I took risks making myself vulnerable in front of camera and crew every day, but there was no other way to make it real. I loved the experience, and I could not be prouder of this movie, and the message it brings." Brandon Smith of Nova Vento Entertainment feels that the time is right for the powerful message of hope that this film brings. "Everyone right now is searching for the uplifting stories and even the smallest glimpses of hope. Counter Column brings with it a beautiful story of redemption, hope, and reconciliation at a time when people need it most."
