

TALANTONCORE - India's Way To Talent Revolution

India's own and first artist centered talent platform is here

Uttar Pradesh, Ghaziabad, Apr 14, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Growth and upliftment of young talents is a topic to research, which are ignored most of the time. TalantonCore, an Indian-based startup, has found the right way to uplift the young and energetic talents from roots, not just music or arts. It provides a nationwide platform for all the artists from each field to uproot their unique talent and compete in the race. Making this possible, TC is the first all-in-one digital organizer providing the essential platform for the youth and talent creators in India.

"TalantonCore is the best solution for India's talent hunger. Still, in our country, not everyone is in the condition to record and publish their content in media to reach among the mass, or a variety of other conditions hit their growth. Providing a non-biased and artist-centric platform, we are heading towards the beginning of a new talent revolution in our country." says Nikhil Jain, CEO-TalantonCore INDIA, in the public meet, along with the declaration of the MusicOnCore Season 2 program officially which starts from June 10th, 2021. Being highly rated and a network of artists worldwide, TC has also partnered with many groups, including AmpSuite, Danmark Media, ENEUR-Kirori Mal College, and other social platforms, to empower and provide an online solution to the digital generation of India.

Mr. Divyansh Dhasmana, Managing Director of the talent platform, announces the relaunching of their website. "We are glad to gift a new and more integrated platform to our nation; from April 20th, 2021, we are relaunching our official website with much ease for new artists," said the official.

About TalantonCore: TalantonCore (or TC) is a UP-based startup providing a new way to uplift contemporary artists in India through its unique platform. Launched in April 2019, TC is a bootstrapped startup founded by Nikhil Jain, focusing on artists and their talents. You can visit the official site at www.talantoncore.in.
