

Wolfe to release latest book, A Second Past Midnight, in fall of this year

Nova Scotia, Halifax, Apr 25, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Internationally Acclaimed author Melody Wolfe has just announced that she is once again back to writing non-fiction Bible-based teaching books. Wolfe had enjoyed a brief cross-over into the world of literary fiction, releasing her first novel, The Godmother, in June of last year, propelling her into the spotlight. After completing the research for the sequel, however, Wolfe decided she would release another faith-based teaching resource.

"I love writing material for people who may not have otherwise been seeking after God. I pray this book blesses people."

A Second Past Midnight is due to be released in the Fall wherever fine books are sold.
