

Bull Capital Trading Inc Ltd Announce the Launch of Bot4x Portal

The leading online trading platform, Bot4x goes live.

United Kingdom, London, May 10, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Bull Capital Trading Inc Ltd, a popular trading company for seasoned FOREX traders, has announced a new matching engine allowing for an even faster trading experience than before.

Internally codenamed "Bot4x", this new matching engine will allow access to deeper liquidity and faster execution speeds.

The platform's latest upgrade has witnessed trade executions with multiple legs of depth filling VWAP happening in as less than 5 to 10 milliseconds via MetaTrader 5. Such a performance is exceptional in industry standards, making the platform stand apart from the rest.

By way of being compatible with MetaTrader, Bot4x allows users on the platform to access accounts from Windows, Mac, or Linux-based machines. They can also seamlessly trade on a browser or even mobile devices, making the whole trading experience smooth and easy with greater accessibility.

The company's CEO Mr. Milan Garg commented on the platform launch: "Our traders know that the values which guide us along the way are transparency, education, and technology. In this ever-changing environment, and by utilizing MetaTrader 5 technology, our clients can now achieve desired speeds which is a key element in the world of trading."

The Bot4x MetaTrader 5 application offers the following features:

One-Click Trading

Quotes archive and advanced Strategy Tester

Order Book to visualize volumes at current price levels

Low spread from 0.6 pips

Built-in technical indicators, graphics tools, scripts, and Expert Advisors
