

Cyber Inu Spacedog Meme Token Buying Frenzy Rockets Price by 127x in 9 Hours

New York, New York City, May 28, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Announcing the launch of Cyber INU finance (<https://cyberinu.finance/>), a community-driven and innovative decentralized finance space-dog theme “meme coin” inspired by Elon Musk, Doge coin, Shiba and Akita.

The community has embraced Cyber INU and its website that has an 80s cyber-punk theme. Cyber INU gained traction from its May 17, 2021, listing on uniswap where its price rose 127x (12,700 percent) within the first 9 hours of launch. The cyberspace dog theme builds upon the success of other dog-themed coins such as Shiba Inu which has increased in value by 235x over the last 60 days.

Cyber INU’s tokenomics are designed to reward token holders. For each buys or sells transaction, 3% of the transaction value is distributed to token holders and 3% is burned. With the goal to ensure fair distribution of tokens, 50 percent of the initial token supply was burned and the remainder were locked into a uniswap pool where the keys to the liquidity were thrown away. This gives token holders confidence that the token’s liquidity won’t be suddenly removed.

As part of Cyber INU's marketing effort to gain awareness of the new coin, Cyber INU is expected to appear on the electronic signboards in New York Times Square. Now that Cyber INU has been launched to great success, the community's creativity will be tapped by inviting people to develop Cyber-INU related memes.

Short term goals are to be listed in Coingecko, Coinmarketcap and centralized exchanges.

The long term goals of the project that will drive token utility include integrating with Polygon and Quickswap and rolling out staking pools where Cyberinu holders can earn NFT's with images selected from the meme contest as well as other features and use cases that the community decide upon. The 3% of the transaction fees that users earn as rewards for simply holding the token will be enhanced by the ability to stake for CyberInu NFT's.
