United Kingdom, London, May 20, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Draper & Dash is proud to announce its annual summit, Datax21. The Datax21 Event invites digital innovators, NHS executives, and health colleagues the opportunity to network, collaborate, and innovate with world leaders in Healthcare and Life Sciences.

On the 15th and 16th of June, attendees will be given the opportunity to learn from executives, including confirmed speakers Richard Corbridge (Boots UK&I), Edward Marx (Tech Mahindra), and Greg Miller (Talkdesk).

Datax21 celebrates the measurable impact of data in the Healthcare and Life Sciences field. In close collaboration with industry leaders, the 2021 agenda touches on the effectiveness and insights behind future strategies driving business impact and commercial success within healthcare and life sciences.

On top of the breadth of topics that will be explored at Datax21, the event will focus on key challenges and solutions within current and future working practices in cancer care, mental healthcare, patient experience, and many more.

Draper & Dash's CEO, Orlando Agrippa, welcomes all digital innovators to 'present, share and discuss the newest data developments in the healthcare and life sciences space:

'The Datax21 Summit is a celebration of the innovations the healthcare and life sciences community has made. Through Datax21, we intend to bridge connections between our attendees and other leading minds in the Data Analytics field. Our agenda of panel discussions and interactive sessions industry experts and partners will empower our attendees in delivering next-generation data insights on a global scale'
