

Joelynn Radbourne, NP, a Nurse Practitioner with All Nations' Healing Hospital

Get to know Nurse Practitioner, Joelynn Radbourne, who serves patients in Fort Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan.

New York, New York City, May 19, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Specializing in women's health, Joelynn is a nurse practitioner who has a passion for providing safe, ethical, and family-centered care to the people of Saskatchewan. She works at All Nations' Healing Hospital in Fort Qu'Appelle.

All Nations' Healing Hospital is affiliated with the Regina Qu'Appelle Health Region. The hospital provides acute, palliative care, emergency services, women's health and midwife services, and laboratory and radiology services.

Throughout her childhood, Joelynnne had multiple personal experiences which inspired her to want to help people. Originally from Calgary, Alberta, she moved to Regina, Saskatchewan, with her husband, which is where they started a family, and she started her career in nursing.

Graduating with her Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree from the University of Saskatchewan in 2012, she went on to earn her Master of Science in Nursing degree from the said educational venue in 2018.

Attributing her success to genuinely loving what she does and continuously improving her skills to provide the best care, Joelynnne is a proud member of numerous nursing professional associations, including the Golden Key International Honour Society. She is also a jury member for Indspire, which provides support to indigenous students across Canada. Most recently, she was elected for a 3yr term on the Saskatchewan Registered Nurses Association (SRNA) provincial council as the advanced practice nursing preventative.

As a Montessori School of Regina board member, she hopes to provide support and guidance to the Montessori families, while navigating the school year facing the uncertainties caused by the COVID pandemic. She believes in creating a supportive learning environment, allowing each child the opportunity to develop their strengths, interests, skills, and knowledge.

A Nurse Practitioner (NP) is an advanced practice registered nurse and a type of mid-level practitioner. NPs are trained to assess patient needs, order and interpret diagnostic and laboratory tests, diagnose disease, as well as formulate and prescribe treatment plans.

Practicing primary care, Joelynnne believes in a supportive provider-client rapport through collaboration with an interdisciplinary approach. She also participates in various community activities including volunteerism and the organization of fundraisers within Saskatchewan.
