

Kent M. Matsuda, MD, an Internist in Private Practice

Get to know Internist Dr. Kent M. Matsuda, who serves patients in Santa Rosa, California.

New York, New York City, May 11, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Matsuda is a skilled internist whose MDVIP-affiliated practice is open to patients, including Medicare and commercially insured, in Santa Rosa and the surrounding area. He seeks to address a patient's physical, mental and emotional well-being through one-on-one counseling and comprehensive diagnostic testing.

Unlike traditional practices wherein doctors might treat 2,000 patients or more, MDVIP ensures that each of its affiliated doctors cares for 600 patients or fewer, so patients can receive the extra time and attention they deserve.

"You are unique and so are your needs. Having a personal physician who has the time to get to know everything happening in your life that can impact your health is the key to helping you be as healthy as possible. My partnership with MDVIP allows me to provide my patients with a level of highly personalized, proactive care typically not found in other primary care practices" expressed Dr. Matsuda.

Graduating with his Bachelor of Science degree in Biochemistry from the University of California, Davis in 1982, he went on to earn his Doctor of Law degree from the University of California, Hastings College of Law in 1994.

Embarking on his medical path, he graduated with his medical degree from the University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine in 1986. He then went on to further his training, performing his internship and residency at the University of California Hospitals in 1987 and 1989, respectively.

Pertaining to his work history, Dr. Matsuda served as Chair of the Pharmacy and Therapeutics Committee (1999-2003), Chief of Medical Staff (2001), both at Sutter Warrack Hospital; Of Counsel, Feng and Lee (1998-2009); Clinical Instructor of Medicine / Attending Physician of the Screening and Acute Care Clinic at the University of California, San Francisco (1989-1997); Clinical Instructor of Medicine / Attending Physician of the Inpatient Medical Consultation Service at the University of California, San Francisco (1996); Consultant for the Centre for Research on Women's and Children's Health (1995-1996); Attending Physician of the Urgent Care Clinic at Kaiser Permanente Hospital (1989-1991); and Attending Physician of the Trauma Follow-up Clinic at Kaiser Permanente Hospital (1989-1991).

With over three decades dedicated to medicine, he is board-certified in internal medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM). The ABIM is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world.

Dr. Matsuda is affiliated with Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital. He is also a member of the American College of Physicians. He is an inactive member of the State Bar of California and formerly was a member of the American Bar Association.

Internal medicine is the medical specialty dealing with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of adult diseases. Physicians specializing in internal medicine are called internists. They manage and prevent common and complex diseases by providing comprehensive care and promoting overall well-being.

Among Dr. Matsuda's various accolades include Top Doctor Sonoma County (2016, 2017), Top 10 Internists, American Registry (2013), Patients' Choice Award, American Registry (2012), and Excellence in Patient Satisfaction, Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital (2009, 2012).
