Madhya Pradesh, Gwalior, May 25, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Know About Symptoms, Cure, And Home Remedies For Piles

The demand for ayurvedic piles treatment is increasing day by day. Certain medical conditions, living styles, and food habits are the reason behind it.

Hemorrhoids are commonly known as piles. These are the swollen veins under the rectum around the opening of the anal.

Generally, it is found in the adult generation. It doesn't show any symptoms in the early stages. However, it can become a big issue if the swollen veins get ruptures.

On average, it can be said that nearly 50% of the population will experience such conditions. The pile's issue is common in both men and women. Both are prone to this issue. Piles treatment at home is also possible if you know the symptoms and do's and don'ts about it.

In this article, we are sharing some of the information related to piles treatment in Ayurveda and home remedies for piles treatment which you can use for a cure.

What are the causes of hemorrhoids or piles?

- Sitting for longer durations can lead to hemorrhoids.
- Constipation or diarrhea causes increased strain on bowel movement. This may lead to hemorrhoids.
- Portal hypertension, can also lead to hemorrhoids
- Obesity is a factor. It increases rectal vein pressure. Poor muscle tone or poor posture creates too much pressure on the rectal veins
- Pregnancy may lead to hypertension and causes strain during bowel movements. So hemorrhoids might also be associated with pregnancy.

Know The Symptoms Of Haemorrhoids Or Piles

- Bleeding during bowel movement
- Pain in the anal region
- Anal irritation

● Secondary anemia

The main classification of Piles or Hemorrhoids

The piles can be classified into internal and external hemorrhoids. There is a dentate position in the anal canal. This separates two types of the anal skin. While the skin above the dentate line is insensitive to pain, the skin below this line is extremely sensitive and one might experience pain.

1. Internal hemorrhoids are painless as they occur above the dentate line. They may push out of (prolapsed) the anal opening when they become quite large. It often causes bleeding as well.

2. External hemorrhoids occur below the dentate line and lead to extreme pain. External hemorrhoids can cause serious issues. This is because the blood in the hemorrhoid clots and inflammation irritates the nearby pain-sensitive skin.

Treatment for Piles.

Treatment of piles is possible with Ayurveda, homeopathy as well as allopathy. However, the ayurvedic treatment is always helpful, safe, and gives instant pain relief.

Ayurvedic medicines for piles treatment are natural thus accepted by the body easily. Apart from it ayurvedic medicines don't have any side effects. This helps for the treatment without impacting adversely.
