New York, New York City, May 25, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Specializing in critical care and patient education, Morgan is a registered nurse & a certified pediatric nurse practitioner - primary care. She works at ABQ Healthcare2You located in New Mexico.

ABQ Healthcare2You is a house call healthcare service that provides care to patients in the comfort of their homes. A wide variety of services are offered, including annual and well-child check-ups, immunizations, sick visits, sports physicals, and adult care.

When she was younger, Morgan was a camp volunteer for Camp Enchantment, which is a summer camp for children with cancer. She knew from then that she wanted to do something in her life to help children.

Throughout her academic career, she graduated with her Bachelor's degree in Psychology from The University of New Mexico in 2011. She then went on to earn her Associate's Degree in Nursing from ITT Technical Institute in 2016, and her Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree from Chamberlain University in 2017. Most recently, in 2020, she obtained her Master of Science in Nursing degree (Pediatric Nurse Practitioner Program) from The University of New Mexico.

Always striving to provide the best care to her patients, Morgan attributes her success to her true love of children and a desire to make a difference whether it's big or small in their lives.

Continuously advancing her efforts, she is an active member of the National Association of Pediatric Nurse Practitioners and the Urgent Care Association. She also holds certifications in Basic Life Support (BLS - not intended for postnominal use) and Pediatric Advanced Life Support (PALS).

A Registered Nurse (RN) is a nurse who has graduated from a nursing program and met the requirements outlined by a country, state, province, or similar licensing body to obtain a nursing license. RNs fulfill a variety of job duties. In addition to their primary role in treating and caring for patients, their responsibilities also include educating patients and the public about a variety of medical conditions, as well as providing emotional support, coordinating care, and advice to the families of their patients. Other RN job functions include leadership, research, performing diagnostic tests and analyzing results, operating medical equipment, administering medications, recording patients' symptoms and medical histories, and assisting with patient rehabilitation and follow-up.

A Certified Pediatric Nurse Practitioner - Primary Care (CPNP-PC) is a nurse practitioner who provides compassionate and high-quality care to children of all ages, ranging from birth up to the age of 21. They work in a variety of settings, including health care clinics and physician offices, and help prevent disease, promote health, and educate family members on plans of care. Specific services they may provide, include childhood immunizations, developmental screenings, medication prescriptions in some states (depending upon law), school physicals, treatment of common illnesses, and well-child exams. They work hand-in-hand with pediatricians and other healthcare providers.
