

Rolle Oral & Facial Surgery Leading the Way in Broken Jaw Surgery in North Carolina

North Carolina, Cornelius, May 19, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Broken jaws can be terrible but thankfully advancements in the field of surgery allow patients to recover completely from this problem. In its bid to help people with this problem, Rolle Oral & Facial Surgery (<https://rolleoralfacialsurgery.com>) offers comprehensive broken jaw surgery to patients across age groups and has been leading the way in this surgical procedure. They have become one of the top-rated clinics in North Carolina in this field.

Offering Permanent Relief

Dr. Richard Rolle Jr. is one of the leading practitioners in the field of Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery and has successfully operated on patients. This type of surgery helps in straightening the teeth and the corrective jaw surgery repositions a misaligned jaw. His clinic is equipped with cutting-edge equipment including x-rays and digital imaging technology that allows them to create 3D models. They also work with patients' dentists and orthodontists to help them with emergency tooth extraction during the surgery. Employing the best practices, they have been able to reduce the recovery time post-surgery significantly. Apart from improving the facial appearance this procedure also helps in improving teeth functionality.

Broken Jaw Symptoms that Patients Need to Know About

Thousands of people suffer from this problem and live with it as they are unaware of the symptoms of a broken jaw. The very term is often misleadingly associated with injuries resulting from accidents or altercations. However several people suffer broken jaws without even realizing it in many cases. According to Dr. Rolle, people should be looking out for symptoms such as -

- Difficulty in chewing, biting, or swallowing
- Problems with Speech
- Chronic jaw or TMJ pain
- Open bite problem
- Protruding jaw
- Breathing problems
- Problems after emergency tooth extraction

In most of these cases, broken jaw surgery can offer quick and complete relief from the problem and Rolle Oral & Facial Surgery has successfully operated on thousands of patients over the last many years and offered them relief from this problem.
