This is a contactless ordering system that is ideal to get your business back on track. For example, it is one of the best bar point of sale systems for pub reopening. This system is specially designed to simplify this process and happens to be one of the most modern, innovative, and reliable ones. This is the best system to get back in the business and gain an upper edge over your competitors.

This is a smart POS system that implements artificial intelligence (AI) to manage and control your business. Besides this, it also includes many additional features that are ideal for a point of sales system. It is the ideal system for those who wish to serve their customers faster and offer many different methods of ordering. It also allows you to make changes to the system on the fly and avoid expensive delays.

This system also provides a sales report that is very simple and easy to understand and makes it easy to analyse your business. This can be done either from a computer or from a smartphone. Some of the other smart features include that it works without an Internet connection hence in the case where the Internet is having an issue or is slow this system will not shut down, unlike other cloud-based POS systems. This makes it the idea for cafe POS systems in Australia.

This system has been specially designed with the Australian market in mind and is 100% Australian-owned. The advantage is that it is likely to be more intuitive than the other systems that have been developed overseas. Some of the other features include the ease of creating multiple logins with a high level of security as well. It is ideal for those looking for POS systems for bars. The layout has been specially designed to make the ordering process easier as well. It can print on multiple printers and also quickly obtain data of an existing customer to streamline the ordering process. It has been specially designed after considering the busy schedule of a businessman who might have the need to access the system remotely. It allows them to analyse the reports remotely and also perform several other tasks.
