

Whizlabs has announced 150+ Cloud Thought Leaders and New Generation Leaders of 2021

Karnataka, Bengaluru, May 5, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Whizlabs editorial team has curated a list of 150+ Cloud Thought Leaders and New Generation Leaders of 2021. The list includes some big names such as David Linthicum from Deloitte Consulting, Duncan Epping from VMware, Vanessa Alvarez from Microsoft & Nexme, Ian Moyse from OneUp Sales, Marc Weaver from Database, and many more.

Cloud computing has emerged as a go-to solution for all kinds of organizations and these cloud leaders play an important role in shaping the future. If you are not sure where to learn cloud from, this list has Twitter, LinkedIn, GitHub accounts, and blogs worth following.

Thought Leadership evaluation criteria had three components such as exceptional clarity on the topic, effectiveness among the target audience, quality and consistency in leadership, and contribution to the domain through research papers and social media influence. Whizlabs has categorized the list; so that people can follow the cloud leader according to their choice of content.

Whizlabs started its journey in 2000 and in its first 4 years in the industry, Whizlabs has changed the game for professionals. Whizlabs was awarded the title of the Most Innovative Indian IT Company in 2004 by NASSCOM. Being the pioneer in the online certification training for various disciplines such as Cloud Computing, Java, Big Data, Project Management, Agile, Linux, CCNA, and Blockchain, Whizlabs still stands tall.

Researching and finding the perfect Thought Leaders in the industry and announcing them won't be enough to help the followers grow professionally, Whizlabs has also introduced an annual subscription plan to make more Thought Leaders in the future. One/Five-year subscription plan gives access to all online courses, all practice tests, and hands-on labs for all disciplines. With 20 years in the industry, Whizlabs has always been the first to help professionals grow their careers and now has taken the measure to create a path for new Thought Leaders in all disciplines with the subscription plan.
