Get to know Internist Dr. Amanda Collins-Baine, who serves patients in Darien, Connecticut.

New York, New York City, Jun 28, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Recognized as a 2020 Top Doctor, Dr. Collins-Baine offers concierge, or membership, medicine at her private practice - Darien Signature Health, Inc. - located in Darien, Connecticut. Her goal is to provide the highest quality medical care and service, emphasizing a proactive, comprehensive approach to both disease prevention and wellness.

“As a member of my concierge medicine practice, you’ll receive truly patient-focused and personalized healthcare. My practice size is smaller than a traditional one, which means we’ll have more quality time together—not only to treat complex issues but to focus on prevention and wellness,” says Dr. Collins-Baine.

With over two decades of experience in her field, Dr. Collins-Baine cherishes the privilege of developing meaningful and supportive relationships with her patients. She offers longer, unhurried appointments and ensures personal, timely contact after hours with direct availability to her personal cell phone and email.

“We have time for what matters most: prompt appointments with respect for your busy schedule, ample opportunity to address all your questions, discuss solutions, and create an individualized wellness plan,” she explains.

Dr. Collins-Baine is affiliated with hospitals in the local area, including Stamford Hospital, Norwalk Hospital, and Greenwich Hospital, where she serves as both advocate and adviser and communicates regularly with those involved in her patients’ care.

Prior to launching Darien Signature Health, Dr. Collins-Baine was a primary care provider at the Internal Associates of Darien and Stamford Health Medical Group. She received her Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree from Vanderbilt University in 1990, a post-baccalaureate degree in pre-medicine from Columbia University in 1994, and medical degree from St. George’s University School of Medicine in 1998. This was followed by an internship at Hahnemann University Hospital in 1999 and a residency at Stamford Hospital in 2000, where she served as a chief medical resident during her final year.

Dr. Collins-Baine is board-certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine, a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world. Internal medicine is the medical specialty dealing with the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of adult diseases. Internists manage and prevent common and complex diseases by providing comprehensive care and promoting overall well-being.
