“Our mission at Krantz Chiropractic Clinic is simply to serve you. We provide excellent chiropractic care to help our patients reach and exceed their health goals. We assess the patient as a whole. We want to address the main concern, but also lead you into a lifestyle of being pain-free. We do all of this by offering an evidence-based approach to chiropractic care by utilizing chiropractic manipulation, soft-tissue techniques, therapeutic rehabilitation, and a variety of chiropractic services to help achieve your health goals” as stated on the practice’s website.

Back in 1976, Dr. Krantz graduated with his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of State of New York. Two years later, in 1978, he earned his Doctor of Chiropractic degree from Life University College of Chiropractic. He also obtained his Master’s degree in Sports Health Science from the said establishment in 1979.

A Fellow of the International Chiropractors Association (FICA), he has been serving as a Senior Professor at Life University for more than four decades, since 1978.

Chiropractic is a form of alternative medicine that mainly deals with the diagnosis and treatment of mechanical disorders of the musculoskeletal system, especially the spine. A chiropractor uses spinal adjustments, manipulation, and other techniques to manage patients’ health concerns, including neck pain, back pain, headaches, vertigo, and a long list of other ailments and conditions. They aim to improve patients’ functionality and quality of life by properly aligning the body’s musculoskeletal structure and enabling the body to heal itself naturally, without the use of medication or surgery.
