

Check out some new music by the next big Indie Artist.

MarTrise Rodriguez's New Extended Play "OVERNIIGHT: THE EP" OUT JULY 2ND!

Texas, Austin, Jun 28, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - MarTrise Rodriguez is a teenage Indie Pop/R&B Artist and would love to give his listeners a taste so fresh and flavorful with catchy beats. Listen to his new EP "OVERNIIGHT: THE EP" available on all streaming platforms on July 2nd.

This extended play definitely blossomed more than Rodriguez's first EP titled "2 AM (RED ROOM)". He experiments with live instruments and different vocal ranges as well and we can see he is starting to become more comfortable with himself and his music. With the mesmerizing and layered introductory track "BAD DECISIONS INTRO" all the way to his last track "GRIP PT. 2/GUIDE", he proves that he can make music on such a mature topic so young. His song "TALK ABOUT ME" was one of the first songs in his lower registry and the song itself was very entertaining and he gave us that "all talk is good talk". "connection" had a very catchy hook that kept us entertained; the song had a catchy beat as well and he executed his first "hip-hop type beat" very well. Who knew talking about being in a "thruple" could be so interesting. He sings "finally got a taste of happiness in my life, I finally got you both and I ain't gotta think twice." His song "NITE TIME PLEASURES (feat. Haze)" was a unique and interesting spin-off of his unreleased song "NITE TIME/LIGHTS OUT". "TEMPTATION PT. 1" was very short, sweet, and had us wanting part two already! Very much like his debut single "fed the fire", he teases us with just a section of the song and has claimed to release the full version on the album. Giving me very much Summer Walker vibes. Lastly, "GRIP PT. 2/GUIDE" was a quiet but very sexy track. With the 60s commercial feel at the beginning to the slowed-down bass and hypnotizing hums and adlibs for three and a half minutes, it made me want to bring my girlfriend in the room and do some things to her and the craziest part is that this boy is 16! Yes, there are some things about the release that could've been a little cleaner and better, but for a 16-year-old indie artist, this boy really has the potential to make it in the industry. His beats are constructed very well and his songwriting skills are incredible. His wordplay reminds me of a mixture of Victoria Monét with some Julia Michaels and Sia.

Below you'll find the masterlink to all his music and the most recent "OVERNIGHT: THE EP". I am extremely excited to hear his debut album "OVERNIGHT".

The EP will be released July 2nd and you can Pre-Add/Pre-Save right now. Once the album is released, all of it will be available in your library instantly.
