The spontaneity and lyrical expressions are being delivered by hip hop trio, G-Fly (J Good, Jullius Ice and Knock'em) in the verses of their exquisite sound stream.

Toronto, Jun 14, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Upcoming hip hop trio G-Fly (J Good, Jullius Ice and Knock'em) are the newest kids on the block ready to take the genre on a new level of creative expressions. The trio recently released their debut album called Swam which is an assorted platter of 14 songs with the diversity of each artist. All of them contribute to the songs with their own individualism that collectively paves the way for its incredible energy and sound. The song, 'Catch Up' from the album exhibits all three artists putting their best foot forward. The song emerges as an important one in the album that showcases all three artists complementing each other's creative spree.

The trio hails from Toronto and is associated with the label GflyEnt. Their collaboration includes artists J-Good, Jullius Ice, and Knock em who is putting together a diverse unit and mesmerize the world with it. Other songs from the same album, 'Or Summin' and 'Drowning' also show the passion, conviction, and creative excellence with which they have been produced. An immersive production arrangement with the lyrical velocity of impactful themes, the artists are surely one of the best hip hop groups coming out of Toronto.
