

Le Marche Emporium- KICKS OFF ITS TOY STORY 4 THEMED GEOCACHING TREASURE HUNT

Le Marche's Treasure hunt opens in June 17-20 and is part of a 4-day celebration that that benefits victims of human trafficking.

California, Martinez, Jun 1, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Le Marche Emporium, formally known as Old Towne Antiques, Martinez California Announced that they are hosting a Toy Story 4 themed treasure hunt benefiting "A Sparrows Nest Studios" for victims of human trafficking.

Guests are invited to step into Le Marche as they hunt for Toy Story 4 themed items throughout the 12,000 square foot emporium. Enjoy a dazzling display of more than 80 “hidden in plain sight objects” including original artwork, costumes, and props from some of Disney & Pixar’s greatest animated movies.

The treasure hunt will start at Le Marche Emporium’s 12,000 square foot store which was the inspiration for Pixar’s Second Chance Antique store in the movie. The cost of this fundraising event is $4.95 per team of 4 general admission and VIP tickets are available for $19.95 per team of 4. VIP admission includes a goody bag with an event-themed t-shirt, a limited edition Toy Story 4 collectible, and entry to win fun prizes.

The geo-located treasure hunt offers an immersive experience over three locations Le Marche Emporium, Antiques Corner, and SB Trading Co. Some of the highlights of this event include Geocaching with tickets for prizes at each location, “Easter Egg Hunt”, food trucks, sweet treats, and cash prize to the winner of $300.00. The event spans over 4 Days June 17-20th.
