

Responsible Investment With Abonabrent International

New York, New York City, Jun 14, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Responsible Investment is a kind of investment that approaches and explicitly acknowledges the relevance to the investors of social, environmental, and governance factors, and of the long-term stability and health of the market as a whole. The founder of Abonabrent International, Peter Brooke, understood the importance of responsible investment more than 35 years ago when he started the business.

Abonabrent International is an independent private equity company and since they were founded in 1984, they have managed to become one of the largest and longest-serving independent private equity partnerships. Their team consists of 240 investment professionals across four continents and across 41 countries they have invested $54 billion in over 370 private equity investments.

Abonabrent recognizes that in order to have success with an investment they need society to function smoothly and they are working hard to make it happen by the commitment that they have toward their employees, portfolio companies, investors, and the broader community, these all reflect this conviction. Abonabrent believes that their focus on responsible investment will drive positive change as well as improved performance in the business as it continues to evolve.

Embedding ESG Across The Investment Cycle

To protect and enhance the reputation and financial performance and create stronger, more valuable companies, Abonabrent helps through consideration and thoughtful management of ESG (Environmental, social, and governance) risks and opportunities at all stages in their investment process which has become key to the strategic agenda. Abonabrent's philosophy is centred around the growth of the businesses in which they invest in a sustainable manner.

Environmental:

To help investors find companies with values that match their own they use ESG (Environmental, social, and governance) criteria. A company's energy use, waste, pollution, treatment of animals, and natural resource conservation falls into the Environmental criteria. Abonabrent International knows the importance of managing their impacts on the environment. They aim to efficiently use energy and natural resources, reduce waste and protect biodiversity during the course of our ownership by developing a rigorous process for assessing risks and opportunities at all stages in their investment lifecycle.

Social:

The social part of the traditional ESG agenda focuses on the organisational policies, business ethics, practices regarding human rights, diversity and inclusion, supply chain management, and social impacts that result from corporate operations. Abonabrent's business, and portfolio companies, is built on solid partnerships and it is very important for them to build strong employee relations and also be a responsible member of the communities in which we operate, as investment professionals. To attract, retain and develop the talent that is vital to the future success of Abonabrent they believe that we and our portfolio companies have important roles to play in the community and that our reputation as an employer helps for our future success.

Governance:

The "Governance" pillar of the traditional ESG agenda refers to the governance factors of decision-making, from the rights of distribution and responsibilities among different participants in corporations to the sovereigns' policymaking, including the board of directors, managers, shareholders, and stakeholders. For the financial integrity and success of the firm and that of Abonabrent's portfolio companies strong corporate governance is essential and they abide by high ethical and legal standards.

Transparency and Communications:

As a responsible investor, Abonabrent International knows how important is transparency and communications in investment, to facilitate ongoing dialogue and promote strong partnerships. Abonabrent is planning to enhance their communication in the coming years as they continue to build upon their Responsible investment programs.
