Contacting Facebook customer service over phone call

*Begin the process by dialing the customer service number of Facebook.
Then, from the automated announcement, select an option and continue.
After that, a live person will be assigned to the user to resolve their issues.
Further, the user can explain their problem and get it resolved in time.*

Besides, for any reason, if the live person is not available for the phone call session, then the user can use these tricks to seek prompt assistance from Facebook Customer Service.

The user can try to report the issue by logging into their account. Here, the user can even include a screenshot and submit their request to seek prompt help.

Alternatively, the user can join the Facebook forum or community to seek answers for the general queries.

Also, the user can send an email to the live person on Facebook to seek prompt assistance for their queries.

Thus, these are the few tricks that will help users contact Facebook Customer Service instantly and seek prompt assistance to manage the Facebook services in time.
