

Arthan – A Dedicated Platform that Connects Best Talent to NGOs across All Domains, Functions, and Organizations

Delhi, New Delhi, Jul 9, 2021 (IssueWire.com) - Arthan is a trusted online platform that connects social impact sectors and purpose-driven job seekers with each other to make a positive difference in society. The platform was established in 2016 with an aim to strengthen the social impact ecosystem by bringing broad opportunities to build leadership and encourage a collaborative approach to address the myriad development challenges. Through whitepapers, knowledge forums, human capital submits and webinars, and conferences, Arthan delivers insights and learning capabilities to make an impact on organizations. They develop proven hiring strategies and recruit talented resources across all areas, not limited to NGOs, impact funds, foundations, and social enterprises. To know more about Arthan and its services, please visit: <https://arthancareers.com/>

Securing a job in NGO provides an individual with great opportunities to make a difference, supports needy people, and stand up for a certain cause in the community. The reality is that there is no single route of entry into this sector and people from different backgrounds, employment history, and experience are willing to contribute their best efforts in non-profit organizations. There is no shortage of NGOs, but firstly, you need to decide what cause drives you the most. Take time to understand what inspires you and what will provide job satisfaction. Making a career in NGO in India is a respected choice as you will support various projects in the developing world and adapt to diverse cultural backgrounds and skills to send a valuable message.

Arthan is a job board that works towards bringing the jobseekers and social impact sectors together to make a change in the development sector. Since its inception, they have been tirelessly working with social impact organizations, thousands of job seekers, and building a proactive network of a small, medium, and large-scale NGOs across multiple levels, sectors, and geographical locations. They have worked with many reputed organizations like Dasra, Teach for India, Azim Premji Philanthropic Initiatives, LEAD at Krea University, SEWA, Jan Sahas, and many more. With the best social impact sector jobs, resources, and organizations, this platform continues to solve complex social problems in India.

Job-seekers can discover the curated list of high-end impact sector jobs, whether they want to land NGO jobs in Mumbai, as an executive director, research lead, or whatever else. Arthan also offers strategic support in the form of Organizational Development (OD) and Talent Consulting to NGOs through customized consulting and capacity-building programs. They organize workshops to bring light on various areas, from HR policies and processes to talent management, talent retention, learning, and development. The motive is to connect millions with economic opportunities for better collaboration, knowledge building, and enable impact. Anyone looking to make a difference and rewarding career path can take the step forward and find organizations that focus on the cause you'd like to work for.

About Arthan:

Arthan is a leading job board platform that brings a wide array of exciting job opportunities for job seekers in the social impact sector to make a difference in the developing world. Candidates can seek an internship, full-time jobs, consulting, and volunteer for any cause in various sectors, including arts and culture, climate change, disaster relief, and mitigation, hunger and malnutrition, rights, equality, and empowerment, water and sanitation, and many others.

Address & Contact Details:

C-22, First Floor,

Haus Khas, New Delhi

India - 110016

Email ID: info@arthancareers.com

Media Contact

Arthan Careers

arthancareers@gmail.com

C-22, First Floor, Haus Khas, New Delhi, India - 110016

Source : Arthan Careers

See on IssueWire