

Breesha Comish, LMFT, Hires Sun Point Counseling's Executive Leadership Team

Pennsylvania, Lancaster, Jul 21, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Breesha Comish, LMFT and Executive Director of Clinical Services at Sun Point Wellness in Lancaster, is overseeing an expansion in services designed to provide more counseling and therapy options for the community.

Sun Point Wellness Center is a full-service counseling practice in Lancaster founded on the belief that all who seek therapy have unique needs. Their team of practitioners is pleased to see Comish hiring three new clinical directors, offering specialized fields of therapy, to help fulfill their goals.

“This is a huge day for the team at Sun Point Wellness as well as the clientele we serve,” said Comish. “The three new clinical directors I selected for these important roles came from a substantial pool of qualified applicants, but the final decision came down to how well the candidate would complement our mission,” said Comish.

The three-person team joining their counseling professionals are:

- Licensed Social Work Clinical Director – Yanina Marti
- Licensed Marriage & Family Therapist – Jeff Johnson
- Director of Pro Bono Services & Internship Director – Shadena Natty

Breesha Comish, whose advanced training and leadership skills were absolutely critical in filling these vital roles, has garnered great support from Sun Point's Executive Director, Laura Morse, M.Ed., LPC, CST, an EMDR Certified Therapist.

"Breesha Comish helps people create thriving and loving relationships with themselves and in their relationships," said Morse. "Her dedication to providing clinical excellence to people from all walks of life is clear in every interaction. She's a compassionate therapist with an active approach to helping people meet their therapeutic goals."

Morse believes Comish's new organizational track at Sun Point Wellness will support the center's continued commitment to offer premier evidence-based counseling services to Lancaster's community. These services include marriage counseling, EMDR, couples therapy, treatment for trauma, and more.

Comish herself has a solid background in counseling and therapy. She has advanced training in many fundamental areas including Attachment-Based Family Counseling and Emotionally Focused Couples Therapy. Additionally, she is Certified in Crisis Intervention, Ecosystemic Structural Family Therapy, and Integrated Behavioral Health.

"It is our belief here at the center that everyone can benefit in some way from therapy, and that the most productive counseling should be deeply grounded in evidence-based research," said Comish. "Bringing 3 new Clinical Directors who share our vision will help more people find the happiness they seek."

Meanwhile, the remainder of the Sun Point Wellness team will continue with clients with all of their individual therapeutic needs including couples and marriage counseling. Anyone who feels they would benefit from counseling or therapy, and lives in the Lancaster area, can contact the Sun Point Wellness Center website for an appointment.
