

Disposable Masks and Respirators Market Report 2020 | Industry Growth, Share, Size, Demand Market Analysis 2025

New York, New York City, Jul 30, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - According to the latest report by IMARC Group, titled “Disposable Masks and Respirators Market: Global Industry Trends, Share, Size, Growth, Opportunity and Forecast 2020-2025”, the global disposable masks and respirators market exhibited strong growth during 2014-2019 and expected to continue its strong growth during the next five years.

Disposable Masks and respirators are respiratory protective equipment that filters out pollutants and harmful air-borne infections. These masks can be classified into respiratory, surgical, and dust masks. Disposable masks are generally made of non-woven materials, such as filter layers, mask straps, nose clips, etc. Alongside this, they include many particulate respirators, such as N99, R95, 3M, N95, etc.

As the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) crisis takes over the world, we are continuously tracking the changes in the markets, as well as the industry behaviours of the consumers globally, and our estimates about the latest market trends and forecasts, are being done after considering the impact of this pandemic.

Market Trends:

The COVID-19 pandemic has led to the increasing requirement of disposable masks and respirators to combat the risk of coronavirus infection, thereby primarily driving the market growth. Besides this, the growing awareness regarding the benefits of particulate respirators, such as KN95 and N95, that prevent microdroplet transmission into the respiratory tract, is also augmenting the product demand. Moreover, the growing amount of NOx emissions from aviation, transportation, and power generation sectors is also catalyzing the market. Rapid industrialization, escalating incidences of workplace-based respiratory hazards, and implementation of stringent regulations regarding occupational health and safety are further driving the global market for disposable masks and respirators.
