

Entrepreneur and founder of spice wing - Khushal patel

Khushal patel is a Young Rising Entrepreneur

Bangladesh, Dhaka, Jul 9, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Khushal Patel was born in Atlanta, Georgia, United States, on 6 June 1996. He is an American entrepreneur and Spice Wing's owner, Khushal Patel was educated outside the town limits of Suwanee, Georgia, United States, at North Gwinnett High School, where he earned his secondary school certificates in 2014. In the state of Georgia, USA, Patel's job primarily included opening and operating 100 Marco's Plaza restaurants.

As a boy, Khushal Patel had an interest in the business. He worked in these restaurants during his high school days, learning how to manage them. Khushal has experience in the state of Georgia, USA, with 100 Marco's Plaza restaurants. After high school, the experience led him to do something of his own - a low start-up cost franchise that other millennials, such as him, could afford to launch. He wanted his company to market millennial-centered goods and something original as well (differentiated). Khushal has always been fond of chicken wings, and the young Entrepreneur launched the first Spice Wing in 2017 with his love for foreign flavors. By February 2017, Khushal remained in her position as CEO, the wings were an instant success, and the Spice Wing won the Taste of Suwanee Wing Competition for 3 years in a row. The success of the first store and his franchise experience led Khushal to franchise his company in 2018 and there are 5 successful open and running Spice Wing locations today, with more coming soon!
