XIADOU

Peru, Lima y Callao, Jul 4, 2021 (Issuewire.com) - Julio Mau, better known as “Xiadou”, was born on January 2, 1998, in the city of Lima (Peru). At the age of 12, he began his passion for EDM, since then he already felt an interest in “Dance” music. At the age of 15, with considerable time, he began to create his first tracks using the DAW “FL Studio” out of his own curiosity to know how the songs that today form a large part of modern music were structured. He began to study through tutorials on the YouTube platform different topics that address music creation and theory. In 2017 already with an audience, he began to expand his music by uploading his first EP "ORIGIN" to his personal YouTube account, shortly after he managed to upload his songs to various digital platforms (Spotify, Apple Music, Claro Music, etc.) thanks to Independent Stamps that gave him the necessary help to publicize their content in a more exponential way.

In 2018 he released his track "Running Back" of the Progressive House genre, managing to participate thanks to this, in contests for "Spinnin Records" and "Skio Music" remaining among the best in its category.

Between the years 2019-2020, he released new songs like "Right When I Needed You", "Another Side of Me" and "Thousand Scars". Currently, he released his new EP "Experimental", which is a small compilation of songs from the Modern Pop genre.
