In this epic adventure from the World of Warcraft® universe, players will journey to the frozen continent of Northrend to face the armies of the Lich King. This Pandemic System game showcases familiar mechanics and gameplay, now tweaked to embrace the setting of the Wrath of the Lich King. Forts, temples, battlegrounds, and more populate the game board as you and your fellow heroes journey across the cold landscape. Along the way, you'll set up strongholds, complete quests, and do battle with legions of undead.

"Wrath of the Lich King is our first time taking the Pandemic game system into beloved fictional settings like Azeroth. It literally opens up a whole new world of possibility," said Justin Kempainen, director of brand management at Z-Man Games.

"There's no greater threat to Azeroth than the Scourge. The game really illustrates that by mixing the thrilling co-operative gameplay Pandemic fans know and love with World of Warcraft. We're confident new and existing players of both franchises will love it."

Designed by Alexandar Ortloff, Justin Kempainen & Michael Sanfilippo, this new Pandemic System Board Game is currently available for preorder and interested buyers can get on to the GameNerdz website to order for $47.99. The retail price is $59.99, You save $12.00.
