"Recording my new EP "of Summer" was a test of strength and courage. As an artist, I am starting to move into more of a mainstream direction with this project, and I think that's a big step for me. I approached this EP with professional maturity and an expanded artistic vision. I am learning more and more how to be my truest most authentic genuine unique self through my music while also reaching a vaster audience. It's helping me crystallize my approach as a singer because I seek to grasp the listener in the first 5 seconds of these songs, and then nurture them to become a bunny for life." explains Kendra
